Convenience of work and study

The MODECOM MC-M4 optical mouse is a proven technological solution based on many years of experience in providing computer accessories to the market.

Our main goal in creating a mouse is comfort and practicality. The shape of the mouse is designed to reduce hand fatigue and ensure comfort while working or studying in front of the computer.

MODECOM MC-M4 combines the features of a classic, ergonomic design with practicality and comfort.

Materials.

The combination of matte and shiny elements is an interesting design solution aimed at making the mouse look more attractive. At the same time, the mat surface that comes into contact with the hand is made of a material that is pleasant to the touch. The silver-colored mouse, on the other hand, has been covered with a special paint.

Material.

The surface of the mouse is made of a shiny, smooth and matte material that is pleasant to the touch. The matt part of the material has the greatest contact with the hand, which optimizes the comfort of work.

The mouse is also available in a silver-metal color, where the upper surface of the mouse is covered with a smooth, silver paint that reduces traces of use of fingerprints.
